BY-LAWS FOR GLNA

Article 1

Spirit of Service to the Neighborhood.

The projects and activities of GLNA are designed to improve the quality of life for all neighborhood residents. To that end, all GLNA events are open to ALL area residents, to encourage friendliness and a sense of community within the boundaries of the GLNA neighborhood, regardless of individual dues status. Projects developed and promoted by GLNA must also benefit all neighbors, regardless of dues status. All residents will be encouraged to voluntarily support the GLNA events and projects by paying annual dues. GLNA will attempt to serve the neighborhood as if it were a client, by offering attractive events and projects that serve the entire neighborhood. Activities or projects that are divisive are prohibited.

Article 2

Funding the Treasury.

Dues are assessed by calendar year, by each household and are voluntary. Dues are equal for each household. Overpayments of annual dues will be accepted, but never solicited, by the board of directors. Dues payments shall not be solicited during any event or project, but will be required for entry into the annual general membership meeting and may be collected there in addition to collection by written dues reminders from the treasurer as needed. GLNA shall not accept commercial or political funds to keep GLNA board free of outside entanglements, or obligations, and to maintain a single-minded focus and loyalty to "those who pay the bills", our members. Fund raisers, such as the purchase of luminarias at Christmas are acceptable, but neighbors shall not be asked to raise funds by selling candy, raffle tickets or the like, in support of GLNA. Foundation grants may be sought and accepted for projects which meet the requirements of Article 1 "Spirit of Service to the Neighborhood".

Article 3

Spending Treasury Money.

GLNA treasury funds are spent only when necessary for support of social events, such as the Labor Day Picnic; or service events such as Trash Day; for capital improvements to beautify public property within the confines of the neighborhood boundaries; or for information services such as the neighborhood directory, informational flyers, and group discounts. GLNA treasury funds must benefit the group as a whole, and therefore shall not be used by or provided to any individual under any circumstances. GLNA treasury funds must be used to benefit this neighborhood and will not be used to contribute to any other group or non-GLNA project under any circumstances.

Article 4

GLNA Boundaries.

GLNA boundaries may not be reduced or expanded by the GLNA board. Boundaries may only be changed if they are accompanied by a completed implementation plan and are approved by two-thirds vote of the general membership at the annual general membership meeting.

Article 5

Block Captains.

Block captains shall deliver neighborhood papers to the residents in their "block". They shall notice new residents, greet them in person and present them with a current directory. Block captains shall get new resident's names for the directory and the newsletter, and give that information to the President. GLNA block captains shall serve as long as it suits them. When a block captain resigns, he or she shall make every effort to find a replacement. In the event that a resigning block captain cannot find a replacement, the President shall do so.

Article 6

Service on the Board of Directors.

The GLNA Board of Directors will consist of ten dues-paying, adult, volunteer members. Members shall serve aminimum of two years. A retired board member may be called upon to "fill in" for a current board member during an enduring emergency, but should only "fill in" until a permanent replacement for the board member can be found or until the board member returns. Every effort to fill vacated board slots with neighbors who have not served on the board shall be made by the current GLNA President. The President is responsible for assuring that every adult in the neighborhood has an equal opportunity to volunteer for board service. If there are more volunteers for board service than there are slots and none of the volunteers wish to wait until the following year, all of the volunteers names will be presented to the general membership and a competitive election for the three slots will be held at the annual membership meeting. Board members are also governed by the same By-laws that apply to the general membership, except that board members must pay their dues. The term of President is for one year, beginning at the annual membership meeting. The President whose term is nearing completion is responsible for assuring that all six of the returning board members have an equal opportunity to volunteer to be the next President. If there is more than one person wishing to be President, all volunteers for the job of President shall be presented to the general membership for a competitive election at the annual meeting. Board meetings shall always be open to any neighbor. Closed board meetings are prohibited. Positions on the board of directors are listed below.

After the election of the new President and any new board members at the February general membership meeting, the President will sit down with the new board and "form a government" by asking the new board to volunteer for specific jobs, based on their skills, interests and time commitments. The President will be responsible for seeing that all ten jobs are filled in a manner that is agreeable to all concerned. The President shall be responsible for keeping the board of directors and the block captain positions filled.

Article 7

Involvement in Non-treasury Funded Projects.

The board may create or become involved in a project that fulfills the Spirit of Service to the neighborhood, and will produce a benefit within the geographic boundaries of GLNA, but does not meet all of the criteria for treasury expenditure. The board may provide administrative support or creative leadership to such a project, but shall not contribute treasury money or assign extra dues or ask neighbors to commit time. An example of such a project was the planting of trees at Bosse High School, where money was kept in a separate account and was not mingled with treasury funds.

Article 8

Building Ratings
Lincolnshire Historic District

The color-coding on this map represents the official ratings of the buildings in the Lincolnshire Nation Register Historic District. These ratings were established by the Indiana Division of Historic Preservation and Archaeology and were published in the Vanderburgh County Interim Report (1994)

= "O" or outstanding. This means the property has enough historic and architectural merit that it is already listed, or could be considered for individual listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

= "N" or notable. This rating means the property did not quite merit an "outstanding" rating, but still is above average in its importance. Further research or investigation may reveal that the property could be eligible for National Register listing.

= "C" or contributing. A contributing rating is given to any property meeting the basic criterion of being at least fifty years old, but is not significant enough to stand on its own as individually "outstanding" or "notable." Such resources are important to the density or continuity of an area's historic fabric. "Contributing" properties in this district are listed on the National Register by virtue of their location within the National Register District boundaries. However, these structures would not usually individually qualify for the National Register.

="NC" or non-contributing. This classification is for buildings that do not meet the fifty-year old age requirement or that have been altered to such an extent that their defining historical attributes have been irrevocably lost.
