Save Energy = Cut Costs

Hoosiers are interested in how they can save energy and cut costs now more than ever. To meet this growing need, the Indiana Energy Saver Program will assist Hoosiers in reducing their energy costs and improving home comfort through energy efficiency upgrades. With the support of roughly $182 million in federal funding, Indiana will provide two rebate offerings through a single application process to maximize the benefits to Hoosier households. Through this program, participants will receive the rebate in the form of a discount on the eligible products and installation completed by a qualified contractor.

The program aims to achieve the following:

- Help More Households: Maximize the number of families that can benefit from this program across the state.
- Support for Low- and Moderate-Income Families: Provide extra help to those who need it most.
- Cut Energy Costs: Implement measures that reduce financial stress by reducing energy usage and putting more money back into your pockets.
- Improve Quality of Life: Increase the comfortability of homes through energy efficiency Investments.
- Create Job Opportunities: Promote workforce development to ensure economic stability and growth for all residents and contractors across the state.

This program helps homeowners, tenants, and landlords save on energy-efficient upgrades like heat pumps, electric appliances, and insulation. By covering a significant portion of project costs and offering additional rebates for major energy savings, these programs make it more affordable to improve home energy efficiency, lower utility bills, and create more comfortable living spaces.

SAVER PROGRAM

INDIANA ENERGY

SAVER PROGRAM

Save Energy. Cut Costs.

Empowering Hoosier Tenants to Enhance Home Energy Efficiency

Tenants across Indiana are more interested than ever in ways to save energy and reduce utility costs. The Indiana Energy Saver Program is designed to help renters improve comfort and lower energy bills through energy efficiency upgrades—at no cost to you.

With approximately $182 million in federal funding, Indiana is supporting residential energy efficiency through two rebate programs that can benefit renters in both single-family homes and multi-family buildings.

Home Efficiency Rebate (HOMES)

The Home Efficiency Rebate Program (HOMES) is available to all Hoosiers—including renters—and provides energy-saving upgrades through whole-home retrofits that achieve at least 20% energy savings. These improvements can help make your living space more comfortable and affordable.

Possible upgrades include:

- ENERGY STAR-certified heating and cooling
- ENERGY STAR-certified water heaters
- Insulation
- Air sealing
- Duct sealing
- Appliances
- Lighting

Home Appliance Rebate (HEAR)

The Home Appliance Rebate Program (HEAR) supports low- and moderate-income households (those earning less than 150% of the Area Median Income) with high-efficiency appliance upgrades. These improvements can be installed in rental units, making your home more energy-efficient and reducing monthly utility bills.

Eligible upgrades include:

- Electric stove, cooktop, range, or oven
- Electrical system enhancements (like service load centers/panels and electrical wiring)
- Heat pump water heaters
- Heat pump HVAC systems
- Heat pump clothes dryers

A Better Home Experience for Renters Across Indiana

- Save on Energy Bills: Reduce monthly costs and keep more money in your pocket.
- Live More Comfortably: Enjoy a quieter, more consistent indoor temperature all year round.
- Support for Households That Need It Most: Programs are tailored to help low- and moderate-income families.
- Be Part of Something Bigger: These efforts also contribute to job creation and stronger communities statewide.

Talking Trees with Larry Caplan

Come Out and Talk Trees With Me!

-Larry Caplan

A lot of property owners like to meet up with me and pick my brains on a few topics, without needing to actually have me come out to the property. Sometimes, I can solve their landscape problem quickly by just looking at a picture or two, or a couple of leaves. Here's where you can meet up with me over the next month or so:

* Colonial Classics Landscaping and Nursery, Epworth Road, Newburgh. I work out there on Mondays and Fridays during the busy season in the spring and fall.

* Franklin Street Bazaar: Every Saturday, starting May 31, from 9 am to 1. The Bazaar is located at the Evansville West Library on Franklin Street. My booth is on the southeast corner of the property. Check here for programs and schedule: <https://www.facebook.com/FranklinStreetBazaar>.

* Art in the Garden, Master Gardener Display Garden, off the Lloyd Expressway. Sunday, June 8, 12:00 – 4:00. I'll be there talking trees, and sharing a booth with my wife and her steampunk/horror movie artwork.

We're always looking for articles and announcements that are interesting and helpful to the neighborhoods!
