UNOE's 22nd Annual Sparkplug Recognition Banquet: Reinventing Neighborhoods

The banquet was held Thursday, October 26th at the Walnut Rooms of the Tropicana Executive Conference Center.

We were led through the evening's program by Brent Jackson, UNOE President, Fred Mulfinger, UNOE Senior Vice President, Richard Eich with Arcadian Acres Civic Association, Tom Littlepage of Southeast Side Neighborhood Association, Janice Ricketts, UNOE Operations Manager, and Carol McClintock with the Downtown Neighborhood Association.

Special guest, Abraham Brown, shared his enthusiasm as a brand champion with the city's "e is for everyone" campaign.

Our keynote speaker was Nancy Thompson, Urban Planning Consultant and former Executive Director of the St. Louis Association of Community Organizations. Nancy inspired us with "The way to change the world is through neighborhood work," and several simple yet practical steps toward enhancing and reinventing our neighborhoods. More resources can be found at www.useful-community-development.org

From the President

2017 will go down in the books as one of our busiest and most productive years for our organization. This year, the United Neighborhoods of Evansville played a lead role in helping to host the Regional Neighborhood Network Conference (RNNC).

In case you don't know, the RNNC is a 3-day, multi-state conference that is hosted in a different city every year through a circuit of 20+ cities. The conference was held October 5th - 7th at the Old National Events Plaza in Evansville. It was jointly hosted by the City of Evansville's Department of Metropolitan Development and UNOE.

Brent Jackson

This conference was going on during the busiest week of the year: the week of the Fall Festival. The Fall Festival is notably an event that draws from our entire volunteer pool of people and resources available in the community. Pulling this conference off during the week of the Fall Festival was truly a remarkable accomplishment that we achieved. It goes to show you the great strength that our community has when we can all pull together. We used the proverbial bat and knocked this one out of the park! Evansville, give yourself a pat on the back, because you raised the bar to a new level on this conference!

I want to tell you that I received over three dozen compliments from our out-of-town, mostly out-of-state visitors about how well the conference went. These compliments, although well-deserved, really go to the 150+ Evansville volunteers and Workshop Presenters who participated in October's neighborhood conference. I wish I had the space in this newsletter to name them all, but please take this small acknowledgement with just as much weight. I do want to specifically thank the Mayor and his wife, Lloyd Winnecke and Carol McClintock, for their dedicated support and involvement in the conference. All the other cities that were visiting couldn't believe how deeply involved the Mayor was in the conference.

Moving on, last month, we hosted another successful Sparkplug Recognition Banquet. The Sparkplug Banquet Committee has been looking for ways to change things. This year the Sparkplug award process, the CPO highlights and adding the Photo Contest were all delightful changes! Great job to those who participated in the Sparkplug Banquet!

With everything that has been going on this year, it has been a rigorous year for our volunteers and our staff. However, our work and outlook into 2018 and beyond is already beginning to unfold. UNOE has been making steps to reinvent itself in many ways. Last month at the Sparkplug Banquet, we revealed the new and long-awaited UNOE logo design, for which the audience showed strong enthusiasm.

This month, we are introducing our new logo in the Neighbor to Neighbor newsletter with a related design in the header. I pray that you like it. You are seeing the black and white rendition of the logo (below on the left) and a version that will be useful when we want to include our website as part of the image (below on the right). On the last page of the newsletter, you can see our version that supports the city's "e is for everyone" brand campaign. The full color logo can be seen on our website and our social media outlets. Please visit us at www.unoevansville.org

In closing this year, I want to welcome Kat Isbell onboard our UNOE staff. Since mid-June, Kat has been a significant help with the RNNC, social/web media and helping us develop a new look and layout in our newsletter.

Looking forward, we plan to continue to integrate and further develop our new logo and artwork into our banners, social media, stationery, and website. More changes are on the horizon for 2018! You're invited to be a part of the reinventing process.

God Bless,

Brent

Aligning with the "Reinventing Neighborhoods" theme, Neighborhood Associations were encouraged to take a photo of whatever is "reinventing" itself in their neighborhoods.

The winning photo was submitted by North Country Club. Their caption was "Out with the old and in with the new!" for this photo where members gathered near a construction site at First Avenue and Concord Boulevard.

2017-18 HEATING ADVICE TO STAY SAFE AND SNUG AND SAVE MONEY

Be bold against the cold.

Fuel to heat our homes can mean high bills. And heating increases the risks of fire, explosion and carbon monoxide poisoning. But a heating system that works efficiently can mean more warmth, more safety—and more money left for other things.

The Evansville-Vanderburgh County Building Commission, Evansville Fire Department, Vanderburgh County township fire departments, American Red Cross, Vectren Corp. and your local heating and air conditioning contractors want to alert the citizens of Evansville and Southwestern Indiana to the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning, fire and explosion from a malfunctioning furnace, a blocked flue or chimney, a broken gas line or inadequate air for combustion.

There could be hidden damage to your furnace, gas piping, flue or chimney. We are recommending that all citizens have their furnaces, space heaters, ranges, water heaters, gas lines, chimneys, flues and other heating equipment checked by a licensed heating contractor without delay. (You should do this every year.) You will protect yourself and your family this winter and save on heating bills.

Carbon monoxide replaces the oxygen in the air we breathe when fuel-burning equipment is operating and the vent or chimney is obstructed or there is not enough air to let the equipment burn fuel efficiently. Carbon monoxide is odorless, colorless and tasteless and catches its victims unaware, sometimes as they sleep. If you suspect a carbon monoxide problem, leave your home and call 911 or your local fire department.

Families in Evansville and across the country have been killed by carbon monoxide poisoning, and many others have become seriously ill. Symptoms may be similar to the flu, including headache, dizziness, nausea and shortness of breath. There may be fatigue and confusion. But you may go to sleep and never wake up.

Always use portable generators outdoors, far away from the home and any openings. Candle fires also have killed families. Be careful using candles during power outages and other times! And make a family fire escape plan.

Help alert your family with carbon monoxide detectors and smoke detectors, available at all hardware stores, home centers and department stores. Regularly test detectors and change the batteries.

THEY CAN HELP

American Red Cross volunteers will install free smoke detectors, test existing detectors and talk briefly about fire prevention. The Red Cross also installs specialized bedside alarms for residents who are deaf or hard of hearing. Phone (812) 471-7200.

Evansville Urban Enterprise Association offers free carbon monoxide detectors and smoke detectors, while supplies last, to residents of the Enterprise Zone and the service areas outside the zone who have not received them in the past. Phone (812) 426-2490.

Community Action Program of Evansville (CAPE) handles the Indiana Weatherization Assistance Program in Vanderburgh, Posey and Gibson counties. (Every county in Indiana has an agency for the weatherization program.) CAPE may repair or replace faulty heating equipment and make other energy-efficient improvements. CAPE also helps with heating bills. CAPE has income limits. Phone (812) 425-4241.

Memorial Community Development Corp. offers emergency home repairs. The program covers repairs urgently needed to protect the residents. The home must be occupied by the owner, and there are income limits. Phone (812) 402-5530.

Vectren Corp. has details on no-cost home energy assessments and energy-saving products, income-qualified weatherization and rebates for purchases of qualifying furnaces, programmable thermostats, insulation and duct sealing. Phone (866) 240-8476 or visit Vectren.com/SaveEnergy.

Community One offers volunteer-based basic home repairs and weatherization to low-income people who own and occupy their homes, especially the elderly and disabled. Phone (812) 250-6888.

Handy Chore will change furnace filters, install smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors, provide fire extinguishers, make some windows and doors weathertight, repair storm doors and outer doors and pump out flooded basements. Handy Chore serves homeowners who are disabled or at least age 60. Phone SWIRCA & More at (812) 464-7817.

Faith-based organizations, social agencies and township trustees may help with heating bills and needs.
